Edmund Arpin Injured.

Edmund Arpin, son of Mr. and Mrs. E. P. Arpin, was quite severely injured on Monday while out hunting, being shot thru the right arm by a rifle ball, making quite an ugly flesh wound.

Edmund in company with his brother Dan had gone out on the marsh to hunt ducks, and were in the rear of a boat, and going to one of the dams Edmund climbed out onto the bank, leaving his gun lying in the boat. While he stood on the bank the gun discharged, the bullet striking him in the right arm near the shoulder and coming out of his back. He was brought to this city as soon as possible and taken to his home, where everything possible was done for his comfort, and at the present writing he is resting quite comfortably.

The boys were unable to explain the discharge of the gun, as they said that nobody was touching it at the time. It was very lucky that the bullet did as little damage as it did, and was a very narrow escape, as an inch or two either way might have caused a serious wound.

WAS A HOT ONE.

Two Barns Burn on the West Side and Cremate a Horse and a Cow.

A barn belonging to Mrs. F. P. Daly caught fire on Saturday afternoon and from that building the flames spread to the barn next to it and the result was that both the barns were burned, as well as a horse and a cow belonging to Mrs. Daly, causing a loss of about a thousand dollars with very little insurance.

The fire occurred about the middle of the afternoon and when discovered it had gained such headway that it was impossible to get near the barn to save anything inside. A high wind was blowing directly toward the residence of Mrs. Daly and also the home of Geo. M. Hill, and as the wind fanned the flames it began to look as if there was going to be a wider and conflagration.

The fire company got to the scene more promptly than usual, but when they first arrived they were able to get one stream into service, but this was not sufficient to prevent the other buildings from catching fire. Had the usual time elapsed before the water was available there would have been a great deal of damage done, and taken altogether it was a most fortunate outcome.

Mrs. Daly's house caught fire on the roof at one time, and the house and the goods were hustled out, putting place on double quick time. Many of the articles in a state that would have been but little worse had they been burned instead of moved. Besides the loss of the horse and cow, Mrs. Daly had buggies, harnesses and other things stored in the barn, all of which was lost, the insurance company amounting to about three hundred dollars. The loss of the barn was a thousand dollars. A barn about a thousand dollars was a smaller structure and nothing of great value in it. How the fire originated, is not known, although it is suspected that it was the work of some small boys who were playing with fire about the premises, and who made their escape immediately upon discovering what they had done.

Record Run of Paper Mill.

A remarkable day's run is recorded at the mill of the Rhineland paper company. One machine last Friday turned out 76,000 pounds of paper, 110 inches wide, in a run of twenty-four hours. This record holds over any other performance of the kind in the state or outside of it, according to published records in the journals of the paper trade. Widespread publicity was given the account of a run last Friday which was exceeded by that of Friday, by 3,000 pounds. The machines at the mill at Rhineland are speeded up faster than those in any other mill in the state and the big output is attributed largely to this fact and to the perfect formation of the pulp as it is assembled on the papermaking screen. —Tomahawk Leader.

W. D. Connor Offers Cup.

Secretary Moisenheimer of the Wisconsin Kennel club Friday received a letter from Lieut. Gov. W. D. Connor offering a handsome silver cup for the best corder poodle to be exhibited at the bench show to be held under the direction of the Wisconsin Kennel club in the Wisconsin State Fair grounds, April 10, 11, 12 and 13. On account of the fact that the Kennel club will turn over the proceeds of the show to the Milwaukee Zoological society for the benefit of the Washington park zoo, people who would not otherwise become interested in the canine event are giving their aid, and it is anticipated that the show will be a success in every way. —Milwaukee Sentinel.

Bought an Automobile.

J. E. Arpin has ordered a Rambler automobile of the same type that has been used by Mr. Ellis in this city for demonstrating purposes. The machine is so arranged that it can be changed from a runabout to a touring car, and is equipped with an engine generating 22 horsepower and is withal a very nice car. Several of our citizens have become interested in autos, since Mr. Ellis commenced his demonstrations here and it is entirely probable that more machines will be sold here before the season is over.

Jumped his Board Bill.

George Bow was arrested on complaint of O. C. McGuire on Monday and taken before Justice Brown, and charged with having jumped his board bill at the Riverside Hotel. He settled the bill, amounting to $10.40 and paid the costs of the suit and was discharged from custody.

Baud Had Good Turnout.

The concert and dance given by the band boys on Monday evening was largely attended and financially. The boys took in something like one hundred and fifty dollars, so that the net results of the entertainment will probably be about one hundred and twenty-five dollars. Before the dance a concert of about one hour's duration was given, and those who listened to this part of the entertainment were unanimous in their praise of the improvement that has been made in the organization since the services of Prof. Bliss were engaged. A large crowd remained at the dance, and this part of the entertainment was kept up until about two o'clock. Taken altogether it was a very enjoyable affair from start to finish.

Want a Paid Department.

The fire of Saturday set talking out citizens to thinking and justifying the feasibility of a paid fire department in this city. The fire of Saturday was a very lucky one, everything considered. The department got to the scene of the fire with more promptness than usual, and still there was a very narrow escape for several of the buildings in that vicinity. Had the conditions been such as they are at times, so that the department had not been so prompt, there would undoubtedly have been great destruction, and there is no telling where it would have been stopped. The matter of a paid department is one that should be considered by our city fathers.

Wreck on the Northwestern.

The Northwestern passenger train due here at ten o'clock last night did not get in until one o'clock on Sunday owing to a wreck that occurred on the road about two miles north of Bancroft. The passengers on the train coming north were transferred around the wreck onto a train that had been run down from this city by conductor Comstock, and they reached here about eleven o'clock. The wreck was caused by a car of lumber turning over on the track. Nobody was hurt.

Redford-Youngman.

Mr. E. B. Redford, cashier of the Bank of Grand Rapids of this city, and Miss Fannie Lucille Youngman of Wautoma, were married today at the home of the bride's parents. Mr. Redford has made his home in this city for several months past and during that time has made a host of friends. Miss Youngman has also visited here several times and while not well known, has made a number of friends here. After a short wedding tour they will return to this city to make their dwelling, and will be at home to their friends after the first of May.

Paulus House Robbed.

Some unknown parties entered the home of Geo. W. Paulus one night last week and ransacked the premises from cellar to garret. What the loss is cannot be told as nobody knows what was in the house exactly. Mr. and Mrs. Paulus being in California for the winter. The same night a car containing household goods belonging to Mrs. Ward was broken into and a number of things taken therefrom. The authorities are making an effort to locate the guilty parties and it is possible that they have a clue that will lead to their arrest.

No death is ever a surprise to the family. The death of my dear wife, Mary, was no exception. She was taken from this world on Monday, April 1st, 1907, at the age of 62 years. She was a native of Sweden and had been married to me for 35 years. She was a devoted mother and a faithful wife. Her death was a great loss to me and to our family. I am deeply indebted to the friends and neighbors who have expressed their sympathy and offered their aid during this time of bereavement. I am also indebted to the Rev. Mr. J. M. Kohn for his comforting words and to the choir of the Lutheran church for their beautiful singing. I am sure that my dear wife is now at rest in the arms of her Father in Heaven.

Raincoat Economy

We want the opportunity to show you our line of spring Raincoats; the assortment is large and varied and the quality is right. We are positive of this because the coats bear the label that stands for the highest possible quality in clothing manufacture. The majority of men in our city realize the significance of this assertion. They also know that the "Hart Schaffner & Marx" label in a coat is all that is required to prove the reliability of the style, workmanship and material. It is therefore denied economy for you to invest in an H. S. & M. Raincoat. The first cost may be a trifle more, but they'll not fail you in the most inclement weather, and prove themselves worthy on any occasion you may decide to wear them.

Gentleman Instrumental in Discovering Hiding Place of Part of Treasure Believes That Much of It Remains Securely Concealed in the Old Rendezvous of the Buccaneers Who Did So Much to Win the Great Victory Over the British at New Orleans—Mexican Government in the Way.

At the University of Brownsville, Tex., and we sat on the broad veranda at his handsome residence, smoking our cigars, after the most remarkable January dinner I have ever eaten, without a single word of conversation. Mr. Pizarro's wife, a young lady, who was sitting at the table, said she had been at the bay before; it flew over in the half-shell, fresh from oysters on the Gulf at Point Isabel, 15 miles away; grown corn on the cob, cucumbers, lettuce, celery from Mr. Pizarro's own garden; oranges, figs and grapes from trees and vines in the dooryard. In January? The young lady then said was a very fine dinner, when she was at the brilliant ball, where she was a favorite guest from the old Chaco, spending in an old-fashioned building on Mr. Pizarro's finger.

might tell of former ownership by some Spanish school-boy, of the blood-stained shirt which terminated in the sinking of a ship with its entire deck-burdened with the corpses of its defenders; of murder done afterwards in disposing of the wounded by the piratical custom of walking the planks of drunken outrage and orgy at the razzia following the piratical victory, in which very likely the former owner of this very ring was one of the prizes. There is certainly a romance connected with this stone, and it attracts me the more for the reason that I know so little of it.

A black and white photograph of a street scene in front of a large, multi-story building. The building features a prominent balcony with a railing on the second floor. A group of people, including men in hats and women in long dresses, are standing on the sidewalk in front of the building. The scene is captured in a historical, grainy style.

seen 70 years ago. In these very waters, he was a blackman and began his career as a lieutenant on a French privateer, was captured by an English man-of-war and thrown into prison at an English port, where he was kept for many years and so barbarously treated that his resentment had a large bearing in shaping his subsequent pursuits.

"It is asserted by old residents at Matamoros who know him that his action in betraying the English in New Orleans was attempted to capture New Orleans was to be the brutalities to smuggled or worse—blood stains on the fruits of piratical cruises. Of the followers of Laftie, the richer, more prominent—captains and lieutenants—settled in the same row of houses. Among them were Constantine Tava and Ramon LaPon. These people lived in great splendor, and made a fortune of $500,000 when the United States used, leaving the houses they occupied about as they are to-day. They were extremely lavish in their use of money, which seemed to flow through their hands like water. They related that their women even

Many Ingenious Ways Have Been Devised for Getting Money Without Working for It.

Not long ago a novel trick was practiced by a man going about the streets of London, but it seems almost out of the thought that he made much out of it; unless there are a very small number of exceedingly foolish people in existence. Passing a man casually he would glance at his back and say: "Beg your pardon, sir, but there's a lot of white stuff on your shoulders." Those who were particular about their personal appearance would thank the man and ask him to wipe it off. Accompanying the man almost with a tin of course it was unnecessary to say that the liver was anything white or black. All he had to do was to fill his pipe and be welcome soon as the generous stranger was of sight the borrower would turn to the tobacco from the pipe to a curious pouch he carried. When he coughed a pound or two he would sell it to a tobacco dealer.

Another dodge worked on the looking-glass man is that well known to the dealer in the street-trick-pipe fake. As the victuaries along a crowded street he met a man who is smoking a big schaum pipe. That is to say, he would notice him if he were le-allent bearing, great many beauty and carriages. He wore jewels of extraordinary splendor, and always carried a court sword with an emerald hilt blazing with jewels. These things went, and then, and remember these things well, for they were not like a dream of the Arabian Nights. The man had been with us on these visits a Spanish lord of great beauty who was always at his side. None except the Tarnava family ever talked with her, but it was a current belief among us children that the man was Laffite and the woman a lady whom he had captured in some of his sea fights, killing her male relative, taken her to Barbadoes and still held her as his wife. She was at even supposed to bear his child. She at- tended upon her twice, but did not succeed. For people no doubt mourned her as dead.

After the Tarnavas left the house I went there again occupied and so far as I know has not been entered for 50 years until about a year ago. The entire premises are in ruins, as you saw, but in its prime it was as handsome as any residence on this coast. The state roof is falling in, though the walls are still probably sound for a century, as they are very thick and solid. The rotting balconies look down into an inner court still full of orange and fig trees laden with fruit—but I have seen this garden and the balconies lighted up at night and the walls with flowers in the winter the were practically empty. There was a handful of Spanish and English gold coins and several jewels of which the one I wear is one, in the box on the floor. We searched thoroughly. What we found was valued at $4,300. The balance of the treasure, which the letter stated to be over $75,000, had been taken by some one, possibly some accidental discoverer. The other places indicated to contain treasure we did not find. The other places were imperfect or lost. The discovery was too well kept. Our time was limited since it soon became necessary that we were doing and we were stopped. You know what the Mexican government is.

story of this flag:

Had Treasure Chart.

"In June, 1906, a gentleman from Chicago came to my office soliciting my assistance. He had a map or chart and a letter, which he gave the following history: His mother, a widow, kept a boarding house 28 years ago in Chicago. Among her boarders was a man of about 60 years, who was a sailor on the lake. He carried a small quantity of water for many years, in fact the other sailors often talked of that, and the fact that he seemed to hold himself aloof from them; that while mixing freely with them, he would never relate any of his experiences in the past, and was apparently very fond of his mother. He was called Luffon. One night he was drowned by the wrecking of his vessel, the Irene, of Sandusky. His effects lay about the house for years in that there is hidden away in this locality, by the pirates, the smugglers, the revolutionists and others those who operated here during the civil war when this was the only place the south had open for many months. The sunken place in the brick pavement of the basement at the corner of Tarnava, I think, indicates a second passage, but it will lie in the court of the street; but it may just as well lead to a treasure chamber.

"The cannon shot over the door the second story? Oh, I don't know the history of that. It is very impossible that it was shot there during some of the revolutionary wars, which took place in the streets of Waukegan. It may have been planned there during the bombardment of Waukegan by Gen. Scott, and I sometimes think it was."

—J. M. Shogren.

An old sea chest, all efforts to discover any relatives being ineffectual. In the bottom of the chest was this note: "The latter, the latter," stated that LaFon had been a pirate, standing under Lafitte previously to the lakes, and had, with his companions, buried a very large treasure in Matamoros. There was also some fine jewelry and a beautifully decorated dagger in the chest, and the chart. The latter it at once recognized as a partial map of the city of Matamoros in the vicinity of the Casa Tárana or "house of the pirates," as it is now called, and the street leading to the "Casa Mata, or house of the death," the outskirts where the prisoners were executed in the early days.

"A smaller chart on the same parchment," tion over his loss, and calls on heaven to witness the clumsiness of the victim. The former says that it is all a farce, and that he will not accept of demands compensation while tenderly picking up the pieces. He affects the proffered monetary solatium with the remark that the pipe was worth more, and that he is on the very street to enter the "meerschauum" ready for some one else. This trick used to bring in quite a decent amount, but it has become so well known that it is seldom successful.

In Glasgow there used to be a respectable-looking old man who was reputed to make a living out of postage stamps. He frequented the better class of cheap lodging houses, though poorly. He had a simple, but apparently very successful method of working. He was always writing in answer to advertisements; after having sent off several others. If he delayed writing the letter would be filled, but if he had once made you sure to get the place. What hard lines! And he been out of work for weeks and now come to the end of his tether. Of course those who did not heed the salt water for this unfortunate affair, and would give him a shilling or the price of one.

Sometimes he would take his seat near a post office, looking for the letter that might come through all the other letters. He was a very charitable woman who was passing would ask his trouble and give him a penny or twopence or even a shilling, if he had no other means of making as much as five shillings a day by this means.

The Tribune acknowledges the receipt of a copy of the Star and Herald from George Huntington. The paper is published at Panama, and while it may look good to the natives down there, it is not what we would call a first class sheet up in this country. This city teams have been working on the streets for the past week and the consequence is that they now present a very neat appearance and what they would had the mud and accumulation of dirt been allowed to remain on them until a later date. People from out of town are not slow in complimenting the manner in which we take care of our streets, and could more be a great help toward keeping the main thoroughfares in a presentable condition.

Fred and Andrew Mosler were down on the marsh for several days past hunting geese. They succeeded in killing one on Monday, the bird being shot at long range with a rifle. They report that there are hundreds of geese and it is difficult to get near enough to them to obtain a shot that will be effective. Geese hunting is a very fascinating sport and calls out all the hunting ability there is in a man, and the chances are that the person who gets one has put in more time and labor than he would have to do in securing a deer.

The Sage Ten Millions.

The imposing record of giant benefactions, by which these days in America have been honorably distinguished, has been swelled by the gift of ten million dollars by Mrs. Russell Sage, to establish the "Sage Foundation" for philanthropic work.

The income of this fund, which will amount to about $15,000 a year, is to be used for "the improvement of social and living conditions in the United States." That object, of course, is broad enough to cover almost anything. It will include, according to the authorized statement, "research, publication, education, the establishment and maintenance of charitable and beneficial activities, agencies and institutions and the aid of any such activities, agencies, and institutions already established."

This is the greatest gift ever devoted to such a purpose—the most important earthly matter with which the human mind can concern itself. Mr. Carnegie has given more for libraries, technical schools, scientific research, and pensions for professors. Mr. Rockefeller has given more for colleges and universities, but nobody has devoted such a sum to the broad work of human betterment.

The scope of Mrs. Sage's foundation is wide enough "to investigate and study the causes of adverse social conditions, including ignorance, poverty and vice, to suggest how these conditions can be remedied or ameliorated, and to put in operation any appropriate means to that end."

For that purpose any new agency may be established or existing agencies may be helped. The endowment is to be administered by a corporation which is to have power to accept other gifts and bequests, so that in time it may grow to enormous proportions. The possibilities of usefulness under it are limitless. Scores of millions of dollars have been spent in charity, but they have left just as much as ever to be done; because they have dealt with consequences, not with causes. Mrs. Sage's gift goes to the root of things. It has a promise of usefulness far beyond any mere charity, for it wisely administered it may help to make charity unnecessary.—Collier's Week-ly.

Many times the half animals purchased are of the highest grade of full blooded stock to be used for the purpose, with view to developing the best class of dairy cattle. Thus by purchasing cattle which, though of the best breeds, are infected with tuberculosis, the breeder is unwittingly taking the first step toward the destruction rather than the improvement of the stock. By requiring that all animals be subjected to the tuberculin test before the sale, and by demanding that an affidavit be furnished of the healthy condition of the whole herd, the law seeks to protect the innocent purchaser against the loss of money, time, and effort.

We want the opportunity to show you our line of spring Raincoats; the assortment is large and varied and the quality is right. We are positive of this because the coats bear the label that stands for the highest possible quality in clothing manufacture. They also know that the "Hart Schaffner & Marx" label in a coat is all that is required to prove the reliability of the style, workmanship and material. Edmund Arpin Injured.

Edmund Arpin, son of Mr. and Mrs. E. P. Arpin, was quite severely injured on Monday while out hunting, being shot thru the right arm by a rifle ball, making quite an ugly flesh wound.

Edmund in company with his brother Dan, had gone out on the marsh to hunt ducks, and were in the resort in a boat, and going to one of the dams Edmond stumbled out onto the bank, leaving his gun lying in the boat. While he stood on the bank the gun discharged, the bullet striking him in the right arm near the shoulder and coming out of his back. He was brought to this city as soon as possible and taken to his home, where everything possible was done for his comfort, and at the present writing he is resting quite comfortably.

The boys were unable to explain the discharge of the gun as they said that nobody was touching it at the time. It was very lucky that the bullet did as little damage as it did, and was a very narrow escape, as an inch or two either way might have caused a serious wound.

WAS A HOT ONE.

Two Barns Burn on the West Side and Cremate a Horse and a Cow.

A barn belonging to Mrs. F. P. Daly caught fire on Saturday afternoon and from that building the flames spread to the barn next to it and the result was that both the barns were burned, as well as a horse and a cow belonging to Mrs. Daly, causing a loss of about a thousand dollars with very little insurance.

The fire occurred about the middle of the afternoon and when discovered it had gained such headway that it was impossible to get near the barn to save anything inside. A high wind was blowing directly toward the residence of Mrs. Daly and also the house of Geo. Hill, and as the wind tamed the flames and drove the sparks toward these buildings it began to look as if there was going to be a widespread conflagration.

The fire company got to the scene more promptly than usual, but this saved the day and prevented the other buildings from catching fire. Had the usual time elapsed before the water was available there would have been a great deal of damage done, and taken altogether it was a most fortunate outcome.

Mrs. Daly's house caught fire on the roof at one time, and the household goods were saved, but the place on double quick time, putting many of the articles in a state that would have been but little worse had they been burned instead of moved. Besides the loss of the horse and cow, Mrs. Daly had buggies, harnesses and other things stored in the barn, all of which was lost, the insurance on same amounting to about three hundred dollars, with a loss of about a thousand dollars. The barn of August Busko was a smaller structure and nothing of great value in it.

How the fire originated, is not known, although it is suspected that it was the work of some small boys who were playing with fire about the premises, and who made their escape immediately upon discovering what they had done.

Record Run of Paper Mill.

A remarkable day's run is recorded at the mill of the Rhineland Paper company. One machine last Friday turned out 76,000 pounds of print, 110 inches wide, in a run of twenty-four hours. This record is considered phenomenal and easily holds over any other performance of the kind in the state or outside of it, according to published records in the journals of the paper trade. Widespread publicity was given the account of a run last year which was exceeded by that of Friday by 3,000 pounds. The machines at the mill at Rhineland are speeded up faster than those in any other mill in the state and the big output is attributed largely to this fact and to the perfect formation of the pulp as it is assembled on the papermaking screen.—Tomahawk Leader.

W. D. Connor Offers Cup.

Secretary Melsenheimer of the Wisconsin Kennel club Friday received a letter from Lieut. Gov. W. D. Connor offering a handsome silver cup for the best corded pointer to be exhibited at the bench show to be held under the direction of the Wisconsin Kennel club in the Broadway armory April 10, 11, 12 and 13. On account of the fact that the Kennel club will turn over the proceeds of the show to the Milwaukee Zoological society for the benefit of the Washington park zoo, people who would not otherwise become interested in the event are eyeing their aid, and it is anticipated that the show will be a success in every way.—Milwaukee Sentinel.

Bought an Automobile.

J. B. Arpin has ordered a Rambler automobile of the same type that has been used by Mr. Ellis in this city for demonstrating purposes. The machine is so arranged that it can be changed from a runabout to a touring car, and is equipped with an engine generating 22 horsepower, and is with a very nice car. Several of our citizens have become interested in autos: since Mr. Ellis commenced his demonstrations here and it is entirely probable that more machines will be sold here before the season is over.

Jumped his Board Bill.

George Beow was arrested on complaint of O. C. McGuire on Monday and taken before Justice Brown, the charge being that he had jumped his board bill at the Riverside Hotel. He settled the bill, amounting to $10.40, and paid the costs of the suit and was discharged from custody. Mike Sierck recently sold his full blooded Jersey bull to outside parties.

Baud Had Good Turnout.

The concert and dance given by the band boys on Monday evening was largely attended and was a success both socially and financially. The boys took in something like one hundred and fifty dollars, so that the net results of the entertainment will probably be about one hundred and twenty-five dollars. Before the dance a concert of about one hour's duration was given, and those who listened to this part of the entertainment were unanimous in their praise of the improvement that has been made in the organization since the services of Prof. Bliss were engaged. A large crowd remained at the dance, and this part of the entertainment was kept up until about two o'clock. Taken altogether it was a very enjoyable affair from start to finish.

Want a Paid Department.

The fire of Saturday set several of our citizens to thinking and talking about the feasibility of a paid fire department in this city. The fire of Saturday was a very lucky one, everything considered. The department got to the scene of the fire with more promptness than usual, and still there was a very narrow escape for several of the buildings in that vicinity. Had the conditions been such as they are at times, so that the department had not been so prompt, there would undoubtedly have been great destruction, and there is no telling where it would have been stopped. The matter of a paid department is one that should be considered by our city fathers.

Wreck on the Northwestern.

The Northwestern passenger train due here at ten o'clock Saturday evening did not get in until one o'clock on Sunday owing to a wreck that occurred on the road about two miles north of Bancroft. The passengers on the train coming north were transferred around the wreck onto a train that had been run down from this city by conductor Comstock, and that evening, the wreck was caused by a car of lumber springing over on the track. Nobody was hurt.

Mr. Redford has made his home in this city for several months past and during that time has made a host of friends. Miss Youngman has also visited here several times and while not well known, has made a number of friends here. After a short wedding tour they will return to this city to make their dwelling, and will be at home to their friends after the first of May.

Paulus House Robbed.

Some unknown parties entered the home of Geo. W. Paulus one night last week and ransacked the premises from cellar to garret. What the loss is cannot be told as nobody knows what was in the house exactly, Mr. and Mrs. Paulus being in California for the winter. The same night a car containing household goods belonging to Mrs. Ward was broken into and a number of things taken therefrom. The authorities are making an effort to locate the guilty parties and it is possible that they have a clue that will lead to their arrest.

Card of Thanks.

No doubt, the St. Lawrence Polish Catholic church congregation of this city is one of the many which in a short time has enjoyed a number of favors from the Witter family, as well as from the members of the Bank of Grand Rapids.

When in 1905 the church grounds were purchased in Italy, Saxon and Witters' addition to the city of Centralia, the St. Lawrence congregation received a liberal reduction from the stipulated price. Again in 1906 when the members of the above mentioned congregation, having only $200.00 in the treasury lot out contracts for the present building, furniture, etc., which altogether amounted to over twenty-two thousand dollars, found themselves in financial difficulties. It was through the kindness of Mr. Isaac P. Witter that the congregation succeeded in making a temporary loan from the Bank of Grand Rapids.

Moreover, the congregation received generous donations in the above year from different members of the said bank, and especially from Mrs. E. L. Witter and Mr. Isaac P. Witter.

And now this one thousand dollars, which was loaned to the congregation by the late generous and important Mr. Isaac P. Witter will enable us to discharge our debt to the church of the total cost of our church property.

We, therefore, wish by these printed lines to express our most profound respect to Mr. Isaac P. Witter, deceased, and our sincere gratitude to the members of the Bank of Grand Rapids in general, and special thanks to the faithful executors of the last will of Mr. Isaac P. Witter, Mrs. Emily L. Witter, Mrs. Ruth Mead and Mr. Isaac P. Witter.

In the name of the members of the St. Lawrence Polish Catholic congregation.

Mr. Jackson has been taking part in institute work for a number of years past, and his efforts along this line have been most successful, as would be indicated by a call from such a distant place.

Mrs. Edgar Kallberg is prepared to take a limited number of pupils on the violin and piano. For particulars call at the home of C. F. Kellogg or phone No. 117.

Mrs. A. E. McGee, landscape artist, of O. M. & St. Paul railway was in the city on Saturday looking over the depot grounds here with a view to making some improvements about the place. There is certainly plenty of chance for improvement in this locality, but just what will be done cannot be told at the present time.

Sept. P. O. Hart, of the Wisconsin valley division of the C. M. & St. Paul railway with headquarters in Waunawa, has been transferred to Chicago, where he will have charge of the Chicago terminals of the road. His successor is Mr. A. E. Marquette of Minneapolis, Minn.

The new superintendant of the River division of the St. Paul road has been somewhat delayed the past few days owing to the high water which covered the track near Heights.

The water covered the tracks to such an extent that it was necessary to transfer the passengers around the flood in order to continue on their way. The track in several places along that section is so low that it is inundated every time there is high water and the same trouble is a regular occurrence.

The Tribune acknowledges the receipt of a copy of the Star and Herald from George Huntington.

The paper is published at Nekeoma, and while it may look good to the natives down there, it is not what we would call a first class sheet up in this country. It was established in 1849, and much of the type looks as if it had been in steady use since that time. A part of the paper is printed in English and a part in Spanish.

The old Plummer sawmill at Waunawa, which was erected in 1844 and which has been run continuously every season since that time, was shut down last week and probably will never be run again. The water-power was recently absorbed by the Waunawa Electric Co. It was one of the best known mills in the river and was admirably located for a lumber business. It has many narrow escapes from fire, but came through unscathed although all the mills around it were destroyed.

Elmore Sheppard, known throughout the land as "Big Eno the Coon," the heaviest man in the United States and only 17 years of age, died at Appleton Monday morning of fatty degeneration of the heart. En weighed 640 pounds and was gaining in weight at the rate of a pound a week. It took nine strong men to carry the body from the home to the undertaker's wagon. The young negro had for some years been exhibited in various cities of the country, for cents admission being charged for a sight of the giant. He was an inveterate cigarette smoker.

Mr. S. L. Bowen, of Waunawa, writes: "I was a sufferer from kidney disease, so that at times I could not get out of bed, and when I did I could not stand straight. I took Foley's Kidney Cure. One dollar bottle and part of the second cured me entirely. Where others are cure failures. Daily Drug & Jewelry."

The city teams have been working on the streets for the past week and the consequence is that they now present a very neat appearance and what they would had the mud and accumulation of dirt been allowed to remain on them until a later date. People from out of town are not slow in complimenting the manner in which we take care of our streets, and could more of them be maintained it would be a great help toward keeping the main thoroughfare in a presentable condition.

Fred and Andrew Mosher were down on the marsh for several days past hunting geese. They succeeded in killing one on Monday, the bird being shot at long range with a rifle. They report that there are hundreds of geese on the marshes, and it is difficult to get near enough to them to obtain a shot that will be effective. Goose hunting is a very fascinating sport and calls out all the hunting ability there is in a man, and the chances are that the person who gets out has put in more time and labor than he would have to do in securing a deer.

The Sage Ten Millions.

The toppling record of giant benefactions, by which these days in America have been honorably distinguished, has been swelled by the gift of two million dollars by Mrs. Russell Sage, to establish the "Sage Foundation" for philanthropic work.

The income of this fund, which will amount to about $15,000 a year, is to be used for "the improvement of the social and living conditions in the United States." That object, of course, is broad enough to cover almost anything. It will include, according to the authorized statement, "research, publication, education, the establishment and maintenance of charitable and benevolent activities, agencies, and institutions and the aid of any such activities, agencies, and institutions already established."

This is the greatest gift ever devoted to such a purpose—the most important earthly matter with which the human mind can concern itself. Mr. Carnegie has given more for libraries, technical schools, scientific research, and pensions for professors. Mr. Rockefeller has given more for colleges and universities, but nobody has devoted such a sum to the broad work of human betterment.

The scope of Mrs. Sage's foundation is wide enough "to investigate and study the causes of adverse social conditions, including ignorance, poverty and vice, to suggest how these conditions can be remedied or ameliorated, and to put in operation any appropriate means to that end." For that purpose any new agency may be established or existing agencies may be helped. The endowment is to be administered by a corporation which is to have power to accept other gifts and bequests, so that in time it may grow to enormous proportions. The possibilities of usefulness under it are limitless. Scores of millions of dollars have been spent in charity, but they have left just as much as ever to be done; because they have dealt with consequences, not with causes. Mrs. Sage's gift goes to the root of things. It has a promise of usefulness far beyond any mere charity. For it wisely administered it may help to make charity unnecessary.—Columbia's Weekly.

SCHMITZ DENIES CHARGES THAT HE GOT $662,000 FROM BOODLING.

RUEF MAY EMPLOY GAGE

Grand Jury Trying to Trace $300,000 Telephone Money Said to Have Been Sent from Los Angeles.

San Francisco. — Mayor Schmitz Wednesday in a statement denied the truth of charges published in local papers to the effect that the local papers has abundant evidence that Schmitz profited to the extent of not less than $662,000 from participation in the "boodling" operations now being investigated by the grand jury.

"These charges," he said, "are manifestly false, and as soon as I am afforded the legal opportunity I shall prove them to be so."

Local Judge Biased.

He declared himself anxious for a speedy trial, but said it was unfair that he should be brought to trial before any judge in this city and county, all of whom he alleged to be biased.

He declared it outrageous that he should be kept for four months waiting with trial by the grand jury, and that he should be delayed for another four months.

The mayor says this is no time for libel suits, but when he has been tried and judged by a jury he will give no quarter.

He says his annual income is $5,000, that he is not a high liver, and that he has not neglected opportunities for investment.

He says that he has never made improper use of these investments, and will show in court where he got every penny since he has been mayor and what he did with it.

"Gage" May Employ Gage.

Former Gov. Henry T. Gage, who arrived in the city Tuesday night from Los Angeles and who is reported to be desired by Abraham Ruef as associate counsel, declined to affirm or deny that he was here for the purpose of conferring with Ruef.

He is likewise uncommunicative on the subject, and says that although it is true he is seeking additional counsel, he is not in a position to make any statement.

The grand jury resumed its session Wednesday afternoon in an effort to trace the $300,000 said to have been sent here from Los Angeles for the alleged purpose of obtaining a franchise for the Home Telephone company. It is stated that the money was sent to an Oakland bank to the credit of the telephone company, then transferred to another bank to the credit of the Empire Construction company, an allied corporation.

"SILENT" SMITH IS DEAD

AMERICAN MILLIONAIRE PASSES AWAY IN KIOTO, JAPAN.

Was on Wedding Tour with Bride, Formerly Mrs. Stewart—Inherited Wealth from Uncle.

New York. — A dispatch received here Wednesday from Tokyo, Japan, announces the death of James Henry Smith, one of the wealthiest capitalists of this city. At the time of his death Mr. Smith was on a wedding tour around the world with his bride, who was the divorced wife of William Rhinelanders Stewart. They were married in this city on Sept. 13 of last year.

Mr. Smith's death occurred Tuesday at Kioto, Japan. Heart disease is said to have been the cause. A dispatch received here Monday said that Mr. Smith was dangerously ill. In the party with Mr. and Mrs. Smith were the duke and duchess of Manchester.

James Henry Smith, known as the "silent man of Wall street," inherited some years ago an estate valued at upward of $50,000,000 from his uncle, George Smith, a pioneer banker of Chicago. After the death of William C. Whitney, Mr. Smith purchased the Whitney residence in Fifth avenue and entertained there on a lavish scale.

Mr. Smith was a member of the New York Stock exchange and was a director of the New York Central and Hudson River railroad.

Revolt on King's Estate

TROOPS SENT TO THE ROYAL DOMAINS IN ROUMANIA.

Many Peasants Killed in Conflicts Near Braila and Papiulesca—In-surgents Burn Victims.

Vienna.—Press dispatches received here from Constantinople and Bucharest, Rumania, say that conditions in certain parts of Rumania are still most serious. Grave disorders are reported to have broken out on the estates of King Charles at Papiulesca, and troops have been sent to the royal domains.

It is rumored that large numbers of peasant rioters have been killed in conflicts near Braila and Papiulesca, and it appears that a large number of rioters, on trying to enter the town of Galatz, were repulsed by soldiers near the village of Logosani, where the peasants were engaged in a battle with the troops.

Information reaching here at a late hour Wednesday night indicates that the rioters are still active in the northwestern part of Rumania. It is feared, however, that the progress of the disturbances will be the result of the village and consequent death of wheat next winter, with diminishing exports that will mean a financial calamity to Rumania.

Bucharest, Rumania.—Forty peasants were killed in a hard fight with troops in the Mowat field near the village of Logosani, where the peasants were engaged in a battle with the troops.

The measures proposed by the government to meet the demands of the revolted peasantry and end the civil war which is devastating the country, were announced in the official Gazette in the shape of a proclamation issued in the name of King Charles.

The railroad officials indicate that the accident was due to the disobedience of orders on the part of the engineer, Kelly, of the limited train. Kelly has admitted that he received written orders to stop his train at a tower 200 yards before reaching the scene of the collision. The engineer stated that he had not had time to read his orders before pulling out of the station.

Both engines, one of the buggies owned by the Overland Limited and the other by the special train, were demolished. The crash was terrific and was heard many blocks away from the scene.

The railroad officials indicate that the accident was due to the disobedience of orders on the part of the engineer, Kelly, of the limited train. Kelly has admitted that he received written orders to stop his train at a tower 200 yards before reaching the scene of the collision. The engineer stated that he had not had time to read his orders before pulling out of the station.

Both engines, one of the buggies owned by the Overland Limited and the other by the special train, were demolished. The crash was terrific and was heard many blocks away from the scene.
